We thank them for inspiring curiosity, nurturing confidence, and shaping the future of our students every single day.

Healthy Lunch Box Day

Healthy Lunch Box Day gave students the opportunity to explore the importance of making nutritious food choices. Classrooms were filled with colorful and balanced lunch boxes featuring fruits, vegetables, and wholesome meals. The activity encouraged students to develop healthy eating habits and understand how good nutrition supports their energy, learning, and overall well-being throughout the school day.

Ghaf Tree Planting

Grades 11 and 12 took part in a meaningful planting of the Ghaf Tree, the national tree of the U.A.E. and a symbol of resilience, heritage, and sustainability. The activity highlighted the tree's importance to the desert ecosystem and its deep cultural significance. Now planted at the heart of the school, the Ghaf Tree stands as a lasting reminder of environmental responsibility and national pride, welcoming students each day during morning assembly.

Informative videos were also shown to help students understand the importance of speaking up and supporting one another.

Breast Cancer Awareness

In honor of Breast Cancer Awareness Month, our SLO Wellness Department led a powerful initiative dedicated to education and early detection. A central highlight of the program was an expert-led seminar for staff and parents, delivered by a specialized doctor from a leading medical service provider, which focused on the vital importance of preventative health. Complementing this session, awareness cards were distributed to reinforce the message of regular screenings and self-care. Through this collective effort, our school community stood united, demonstrating that knowledge and proactive awareness are our most effective tools in the fight against breast cancer.

The visit helped bridge generations, creating meaningful memories while encouraging students to give back and appreciate the wisdom of others.

Teacher Appreciation Day

To celebrate Teacher Appreciation Day, our SLO Outreach Department spread joy across campus by delivering delicious sweets paired with heartfelt, handwritten notes to our faculty. These small tokens of gratitude were designed to brighten our teachers' busy schedules and remind them of the profound impact they have on our lives.
